

10.00AMLandscape Photography In Focus*James Abbott

James is an experienced professional photographer and journalist, a trained teacher and has previously been Deputy Editor of Practical Photographer magazine. He now splits his time between freelance photography and writing, making his own beautiful images and delivering workshops and training. James is local to Cambridge but his landscape photography also takes him to more rugged locations. See how focus stacking can be used to create stunning landscape images with a depth of field and levels of detail not otherwise possible.

jamesaphoto.co.uk
11.00AM*Wildlife & Conservation Photography With Ethics*Craig Jones

At a time when it is possible to “pay-to-play” and some less scrupulous outfits will offer clients the guarantee of certain “wildlife” images with the use of bait and artificial set-ups, Craig Jones takes a more ethical approach that is more respectful of the subjects natural habitats and habits. His use of fieldcraft skills, honed in the military and practiced during many years photographing wildlife and training clients globally, allows him to capture breathtaking images of wild animals displaying their natural behaviour.

craigjoneswildlifephotography.co.uk
12.00PM*Performance, People and Portraits*Andrew Appleton

Andrew is an award winning photographer and trainer who began his pro career shooting theatre and dance performances. Whilst he now shoots and trains photographers across a variety of genre, he is renowned for his ability to work with light, both flash and ambient/natural, creating sublime portraits and images of people that bring the best out of the subject. Such is the success of Andrew’s approach to training, that many of his students have gone on to be award winning photographer’s themselves.

appletonphototraining.com
2.00PM*From War Photography to Culinary Art*Ilian Iliev

With over 30 years experience as a pro photographer, from covering wars for the press, through a commercial photography practice, to his specialism now of food photography, Ilian employs his creativity to produce exquisite pieces of culinary art. Shooting commissions and running workshops on food photography and food styling internationally, Ilian is able to offer his students extensive knowledge, experience and skill to draw upon. Let him help you create images of food that look as good as the taste.

ilian.co.uk
3.00PM*In The Moment - Shooting Street*Craig Reilly

A London based, street photographer and trainer shooting and achieving recognition internationally, Craig is also a co-founder of the worlds largest dedicated street photography platform, Street Photography International (SPI). Craig’s work and contribution to the field were recognised by Olympus for whom he is a UK ambassador. His striking images capture light, form, and colour as they intersect with moments in everyday lives and he is known for his relaxed, friendly training style.

craigreillyphotography.com

PHOTOGRAPHY MASTERCLASS TASTER DAY

Sunday 31st March 10am-4pm £7.50 Pre-booking essential

The University Centre, Granta Place, CB2 1RU